“They shall be my finest warriors, these men who give of themselves to me. Like clay I shall mould them, and in the furnace of war forge them. They will be of iron will and steely muscle. In great armour shall I clad them and with the mightiest guns will they be armed. They will be untouched by plague or disease, no sickness will blight them. They will have tactics, strategies and machines so that no foe can best them in battle. They are my bulwark against the Terror. They are the Defenders of Humanity. They are my Space Marines and they shall know no fear.”

-The Emperor, on the creation of the Space Marines

“If the sole trait these Astartes share in common with we mere mortal masses is their bond of brotherhood, then one must dare to ask the question – if that were lost to them, what would they become? ”

-Ignace Karkasy, remembrancer

INTRODUCTION

Welcome Brother, to a dark age of wonder. Find herein the Legions of the Space Marines, the greatest warriors that Humanity has ever produced.

FROM THE AUTHOR

Welcome to what we hope is an exciting and innovative Warhammer 40,000 campaign. For over a decade it has been our dream to take the hundreds of pages of text and illustrations from Games Workshop and forge from them a coherent set of rules to allow for fun games in one of the greatest historical settings of the 40k universe: the Age of Heresy.

It is an age of wonder and hope with a newly optimistic Mankind closer to a true understanding of its technology. It is a time filled with wondrous items reclaimed from the Golden Age of Technology. It is an age of giants, with Primarchs and their legendary lieutenants, walking through the universe carving the borders of the Imperium with their bare hands.

This campaign book is not a comprehensive reference, but a travel guide through the Heresy. It is intended to get your creative juices flowing and to allow a set of enthusiast gamers and modelers a chance to dive into an exotic but very familiar place.

It has been a labor of love and I sincerely hope you have a great time playing in this new sandbox.

BATTLES IN THE AGE OF HERESY

Welcome to Warhammer 30,000: Battles in the Age of Heresy, the definitive guide to collecting, painting and gaming with a Pre-Heresy Space Marine army. Within these hallowed pages you will also find campaign rules, guidelines and missions that allow you to re-create some of the most legendary battles in the Warhammer universe.

HOW THIS CAMPAIGN BOOK WORKS

This campaign book is broken into five main sections that deal with different aspects of the Age of Heresy.

- Age of Heresy Rules: The first section introduces us to the age and the special rules that are used in Heresy Era games. This section also includes new units available to players in the Age of Heresy.

- Astartes Legion Rules: The second section details each of the Legions from the era and describes their special rules. This section also includes Legion Special Characters.

- Apocalypse Legion Rules: This section details a host of new exciting Legion formations that are used with Codex: Apocalypse.

- Age of Heresy Campaign Rules: All of the rules that you will need to play an Age of Heresy Campaign are described in this section. This also includes a suggested chronology for the campaign as well as suggested missions.

- Modeling in the Age of Heresy: At the end of the campaign book, we've included a section on modeling pre-Heresy armies and a trove of information to help you build your own Space Marine Legion.

TIME LINE

M21-M24 (Golden Age of Technology): Navigators emerge and humanity crosses the galaxy in real numbers. A golden age of technological discovery propels Mankind to its apex of civilization. Large empires are formed and the alien menace is kept at bay through both arms and diplomacy.

M24-M29 (Age of Strife): Warp storms wreak havoc with interstellar travel. Humanity is set upon by alien marauders and its great empires tear themselves apart. Humanity is plunged into a 5,000 year dark age.

M29 (Great Crusade): The Emperor arises and conquers Terra using the first Space Marines in the Wars of Unification. He enters into an alliance with the Mechanicum of Mars to forge the Imperium. He begins the Great Crusade reclaiming over two million human worlds in a two hundred year galaxy-spanning campaign.

Mid M29: The Great Crusade draws to a close. The Emperor appoints his greatest warrior Horus, Primarch of the Luna Wolves to the title of Warmaster He returns to Terra to begin the reconstruction and administration of the Imperium. However, deep in the Warp, the Ruinous Powers have set in motion plans of their own...

AGE OF HERESY RULES

It is an age of conquest. Humanity is in ascension. From one end of the galaxy to the other, the Astartes Legions have built the Imperium of man, casting back all who would stand against them. Now their greatest enemy lay within.

GENERAL RULES

The following rules are used during all games set during the Age of Heresy. These rules override any conflicting text found in individual army codices.

- Codices: All Legions use Codex: Space Marines unless noted otherwise. Certain Legions may have access to Codex: Chaos Space Marines, Codex: Dark Angels, Codex: Blood Angels, and Codex: Space Wolves.
- Large Formations: During the Great Crusade the Legions were much larger than their current sizes, and made heavy use of large infantry formations. Tactical Squads and Blood Claws have a unit size of 5-20. Squads with more than ten members may not use the Infiltrate or use the Combat Squads rule.
- Ground Assault: With jump packs being a rarity, Assault Squads use other methods to reach their prey. Assault Squads without jump packs may purchase Rhino or Drop Pod transport options for the same cost as Tactical Squads.
- Commanders Above All: In the days before the Librarian Controversy and the Chaplain Edict, these forces did not exist within the legions with a few minor exceptions. Librarians and Chaplains are not allowed unless otherwise noted.
- Legendary Heroes: During the Great Crusade, each Legion had great warriors that shaped the history of the Imperium. Regardless of codex, no Marine Special Characters are allowed. Only the Pre-Heresy characters listed in this document may be used by the Legions.

NEW TRAITS

The Space Marine Doctrine system found in Codex: Space Marines is used. A number of new Space Marine Doctrines are also available to the First Founding Legions.

- Death from Above: No restriction on jump pack units. In addition, Legions with this doctrine may upgrade 0-1

Command squads (without heavy weapons or the Infiltrate ability) with jump packs at the cost of +5 points per model.

- Pious: These chapters are often led by gifted orators well versed in the arguments of the Imperial Creed. These firebrands inspire their brethren to perform great acts of bravery. Chaplains are allowed and may purchase the Demagogue ability for +35points.
- Hardened Legion: Some Legions, above their brethren, were renowned for their sheer determination and resilience in the face of the overwhelming circumstance. These warriors were counted on to hold the line, no matter the odds. Hardened Legion units ignore negative modifiers due to being outnumbered in assault.
- Rule through Fear: Some Legions crossed the line into tyranny and brutality, instilling great fear in their enemy at the cost of their Astartes noble demeanor. Enemy units suffer a -1 on all Leadership tests.
- Strike from Shadows: Some Legions trained heavily for stealthy, covert operations; appearing as if from nowhere to strike at their opponents. Any Tactical, Veteran, Assault, Devastator and Command squads may take the skills Stealth and Move through Cover at a cost of +3 points per model for both skills. Models with jump packs may not buy the Strike from Shadows ability.
- Sorcerous: Some Legions used proscribed arcane rituals and dabbled in the Warp to gain power and knowledge over their foes. A Sorcerous chapter may use Librarians. Additionally, after deployment is complete but before Scout moves are taken, a Sorcerous army with a Librarian may re-deploy one friendly unit within his deployment zone.

- Be Swift as the Wind: This doctrine remains as it appears in Codex: Space Marines, but additionally allows all models of a Command squad (without heavy weapons or the Infiltrate ability) to be upgraded with Marine Bikes at the cost of +15 points per model, OR from infantry to jetbikes at the cost of +20 points per model.

HERESY ERA EQUIPMENT AND UNITS

The Emperor walks among the living. The Mechanicum of Mars toil to meet the demands of the Great Crusade. It is an age of technology unlike any other.

ERA: GREAT CRUSADE THROUGH THE SIEGE OF TERRA

- Assault Cannons: The assault cannon is a new, experimental and fairly temperamental weapon. They are rarely seen and are just replacing the older Reaper autocannon. Assault cannons are a 0-2 (in total) choice in any army. Units normally equipped with assault cannons may always replace them with Reaper autocannons for 5 points less than the listed assault cannon cost.

- Jump Packs: A newly introduced piece of equipment, the jump pack is not commonly seen on the battlefield. Jump pack equipped units are a 0-1 choice (in total) unless noted otherwise.

- Havoc Launchers: The reliable Havoc missile launcher is used on Legion vehicles to break up light infantry formations. Units normally equipped with hunter-killer missiles may always replace them with Havoc launchers for 5 points more than the listed hunter-killer missile cost.

- Multi-meltas: The multi-melta is a new weapon, most often used in concentrated numbers to maximize their capabilities. Land Speeders, Attack Bikes, Dreadnoughts, Techmarine Servitors, and 0-1 Devastator squads (no Tactical, Veteran or Command squads) may be equipped with multi-meltas.

- Plasma Cannons: The plasma cannon is an uncommon sight on the battlefield and are most used in Devastator squads. Dreadnoughts, Techmarine Servitors, and 0-1 Devastator squads (no Tactical, Veteran, or Command squads) may be equipped with plasma cannons.

- Autocannons: The ubiquitous autocannon is both reliable and trusted within the Legions. All infantry squads with access to missile launchers may purchase autocannons for the same price.

- Storm Bolters: The twin-linked bolter is a state of the art sidearm as the storm bolter is still in development as part of the ongoing Terminator project. Storm bolters are replaced by twin-linked bolters for 1 point less than the listed cost of storm bolters.

- Venerable Dreadnoughts: The oldest Dreadnoughts are only a few centuries old, veterans of the War of Unification. Venerable Dreadnoughts are unavailable unless noted.

- Land Raider Crusader, Razorbacks and Predator Annihilator: These vehicles will not be devised for many millennia in the future. They are unavailable unless otherwise noted.

- Jetbike Formations: A legacy of the Golden Age of Technology, the Imperial jetbike is a wondrous, graceful tool used in small numbers by many Legions. A Space Marine Character may upgrade his bike to a jetbike for +5 points. 0-1 Space Marine Bike squads (without attached Attack Bike) may be upgraded en masse to be jetbikes for +5 points per bike.

- Ancient Relics: Many glorious weapons and items have been crafted or discovered during the Great Crusade and are awarded to the mightiest of Legion leaders. The vast majority of officers make do with their trusted standard gear. Master-crafted weapons, Artificer Armor, Iron Halos, Adamantium Mantles, Rune Armor, Frost Blades (or similar items) are a 0-1 (in total) choice in your army. Relics used by Legion Special Characters do not count against this total.

- Legio Cybernetica Robot Maniples: A hallowed treasure of the Mechanicum, these thinking machines are deployed in small numbers throughout the Legions. Legio Cybernetica Robot Maniples are a new Elite choice for all Legions.

- Adeptus Custodes Honor Guard: On rare occasions, the Emperor will dispatch a squad of his Custodian Guard to a Legion. This is a clear message for all to see that the Emperor's eye was on the matter at hand. This new HQ choice is available to all Legions.

Reaper Autocannon: R:36" S:7 AP:4 Heavy 2, Twin-Linked Havoc Launcher: R:48" S:5 AP:5 Heavy 1, Blast, Linked Autocannon: R:48" S:7 AP:4 Heavy 2

- Sisters of Silence: When the taint of the Warp lay upon a foe, the Sisters of Silence would appear without warning to aid a campaign. They would vanish as mysteriously as soon as the psyker thread was destroyed. Sisters of Silence are a new HQ choice available to all Legions.

ERA: POST-ISTVAAN V THROUGH THE SIEGE OF TERRA

- Traitor Legions: The Emperor's Children, Iron Warriors, Night Lords, World Eaters, Thousand Sons, Death Guard, Sons of Horus, Word Bearers, and Alpha Legion rebelled against the Imperium. Traitor Legions may no longer use Adeptus Custodes or Sisters of Silence units.

- Cult Legions: After the events at Istvaan V, the Ruinous Powers each took their own chosen Legion to their bosom and made them a dark reflection of their terrible power. When these Legions arrived at Earth they bore little resemblance to those that had broken orbit at Istvaan V.

Plague Marines (Death Guard), Noise Marines (Emperor's Children), Khorne Berzerkers (World Eaters), and Chaos Sorcerer (Thousand Sons) units may be selected by their respective Cult Legions as described in the Codex: Chaos Space Marines.

- Daemons: After the events at Istvaan V, the Ruinous Powers made their daemoniac minions readily available to the Traitor Legions. Their offer was not rebuked by their new found followers. Summoned Greater Daemon and Summoned Lesser Daemon units may be selected as by any Traitor Legion as described in the Codex: Chaos Space Marines. In addition to the models listed in the Codex: Chaos Space Marines, Summoned Greater Daemons may possess any Space Marine character or independent character in his own army. Summoned Lesser Daemons are not destroyed if an Icon of Chaos is not present, but instead enter the game using the Deep Strike rules (i.e., are placed and scatter normally).

New Heresy Era Units

Several new units are available to the Space Marine Legions. These rare and wondrous units are all but forgotten in the mists of time by 40th Millennium. They are offered here as an inspiration to dedicated Heresy Era modelers to really add something unique to their forces.

HQ

(0-1) Adeptus Custodes Honor Guard

320pts

The Praetorians of the Emperor. Adeptus Custodes loyalty, training, and battlegear are unmatched by any forces in the Imperium. It is said that over the 200 years of the Great Crusade, only three Custodes fell in combat, their names immortalized upon the Emperor's Breastplate.

Wargear:

- Twin-linked bolter
- Custodes halberd
- Artificer armor
- Frag grenades
- Banner of Terra

Special Rules:

- Resolute
- Nimbus of Purity
- Emperor's Grace

SPECIAL RULES

Resolute: The unit may choose to pass or fail Leadership tests. This ability is conferred to any independent character joining the unit.

Custodes Halberd: This treasured weapon is the trademark of the Adeptus Custodes. It combines a twin-linked bolter with a power weapon that adds +2 to the bearer's Strength (included above).

Nimbus of Purity: The unit is completely immune to all psychic powers, whatever the source.

The Emperor's Grace: Adeptus Custodes models are immune to Instant Death and gain a 5+ Invulnerable save.

Banner of Terra: One member of the Custodes unit may be upgraded to a Standard Bearer for free and carries the Banner of Terra. As long as he lives, any friendly Space Marine units within 12" of the Banner may re-roll failed Morale and Pinning tests.

On rare occasions, the Emperor will dispatch a squad of his Custodian Guard to a Legion. Flying the standard of the Emperor, each of these warriors is a fierce hero of the Imperium. Their mere presence is a signal for all to see that the eye of the Emperor is upon them.

The chamber militant of the Adeptus Astra Telepathica. Sisters of Silence seek out the psyker threat and cull the Imperium of those unworthy of their gifts. They man the black ships and ensure the steady tithe of the damned is delivered to Terra.

Sisters of Silence	4	4	3	3	1	5	2/3	9	3+
Oblivion Knight	5	5	3	3	2	5	3/4	10	3+

Unit Type:

- Infantry

Number/Squad:

- 4 Sisters of Silence
- 1 Oblivion Knight

Options:

- Up to two Sisters of Silence may replace their bolt pistol and power weapon with an incinerator for free.

Wargear:

- Bolt pistol
- Power weapon
- Power armor
- Frag grenades
- Krak grenades

Special Rules:

- Fearless
- Dodge
- Soulless
- Psychic Abomination
- Nimbus of Purity

SPECIAL RULES

Dodge: Even encumbered by heavy power armor, the Sisters of Silence are preternaturally graceful and rarely find themselves in harm's way. They have a 4+ Invulnerable save.

Soulless: Any unit (friend or foe) with a model within 12" of the Sisters of Silence unit counts as having Leadership 7, unless it would normally be less than this.

Psychic Abomination: Any psyker within 6" of a Sisters of Silence unit at the start of their turn must make a Morale test or fall back along with any squad they are leading.

Nimbus of Purity: The unit is completely immune to all psychic powers, whatever the source.

On rare occasions, the Emperor will dispatch a squad of Sisters of Silence to a Legion. They are uniquely equipped to destroy the psyker threat.

Bearers of the Pariah Gene, the Sisters of Silence are psychic nulls. Utterly abhorrent to psykers and immune to their witchcraft, they are perfectly suited to their order's unique tasks.

"No world shall be beyond my rule; no enemy shall be beyond my wrath."

-The Emperor

One of the wonders of the Mechanicum. The robot maniples of the Legio Cybernetica are among the most advanced machines built by man. With barely understood organic-polymer logic units, the robots are capable of semi-autonomous combat operations.

Conqueror	70	3	3	5(10)	11	11	10	2	1

Unit Type:

- Walker

Wargear:

- By robot type

Special Rules:

- Automaton
- Battle Program
- Will of the Omnissiah

Number/Squad:

- 3-5 (identical robots)

Crusader: Lascannon, power weapon, Fleet

Colossus: Twin-linked bolter, meltagun, Dreadnought close combat weapon, Slow and Purposeful

Cataphract: Lascannon, twin-linked bolter, flamer

Castellan: Heavy bolter, Dreadnought close combat weapon, Slow and Purposeful

Conqueror: Heavy bolter, autocannon, Dreadnought close combat weapon

SPECIAL RULES

Automaton: Robots ignore Stunned and Shaken results. If a robot is immobilized and starts its turn more than 6" away from the rest of its Maniple, it will self-destruct for the protection of friendly forces. Remove it from play.

Battle Program: After deployment, each Robot Maniple must be assigned a single Program Objective token as described below. Once placed, it remains static, and the robots will follow their Battle Program exactly, even if this leads them into unusual or odd situations.

Will of the Omnissiah: If, at the beginning of controlling player's turn, a friendly Techmarine is within 6" of a Robot Maniple, you may control it like any normal unit (ignoring the Maniple's Battle Program).

Legio Cybernetica Battle Program

Immediately before battle, Legio Cybernetica adepts will insert the Battle Programs into their robot charges, changing them in an instant from docile machines into deadly warriors.

After deployment, each Robot Maniple must be assigned a single Program Objective token as described below. Once placed, it remains static, and the robots will follow their Battle Program exactly, even if this leads them into unusual or odd situations.

After Deployment

- Mark any spot on the table with a Program Objective token (visible to both players).

Movement Phase

- If Robot is not in base contact with the token then advance at full speed in a straight line towards it, only turning to avoid impassible terrain and enemy units.
- If in base contact with the token the turn to face the closest enemy unit in line of sight.

Shooting Phase

- If not in base contact with the token, then fire all weapons at the closest enemy unit within 18" and in line of sight (normal targeting restrictions apply). If no targets are in range, then the Robot must Fleet, if allowed.
- If in base contact with the token, then fire all weapons at the closest enemy unit within 36" and in line of sight (normal targeting restrictions apply).

Assault Phase

- Robots will fight normally if in close combat.
- If not in base contact with token, the robot will do nothing.
- If in base contact with token, then the robot will assault the closest enemy unit within 6".

Notes

- If any member of a Maniple is in base contact with its token, the entire unit is considered to be on the token.
- The Maniple will consider a mission objective that must be destroyed (e.g., enemy bunkers) as an enemy unit.

"A fortress is built with blood and toil.
Only with blood and toil may it be taken."

ASTARTES LEGION RULES

The Legions were incredible fighting forces, composed of Mankind's greatest warriors and armed with its most advanced weaponry and equipment.

Legion Special Rules

Each of the Space Marine Legions differs from their Brethren in sometimes subtle and, in other times, dramatic ways. This section details any Traits or special rules used by the Legion.

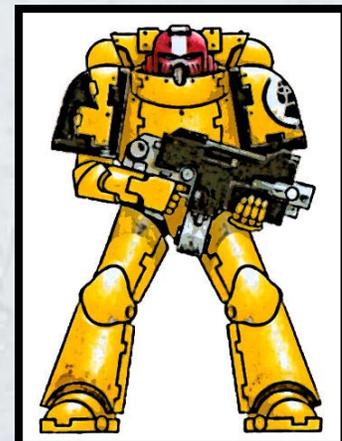

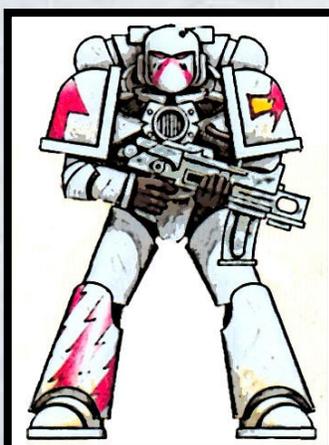

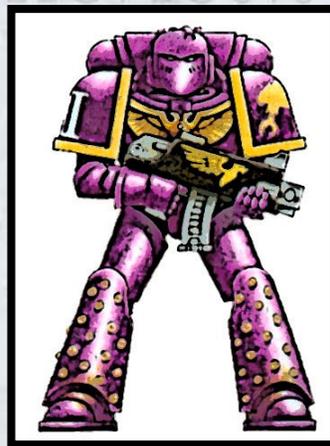

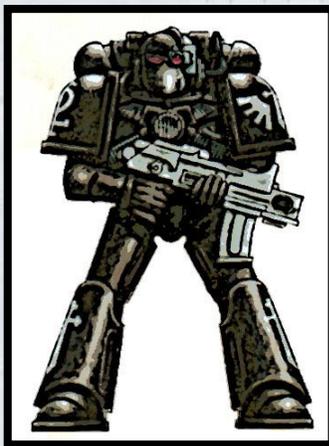

Most Legions use the Codex: Space Marine rules, but several Legions use variant codices. Although other rulebooks are referenced, all pre-Heresy rules restrictions remain in place.

Legion Special Characters

The Great Crusade was an age of heroes and some of the greatest Astartes fought under the Imperial banner.

All the listed Legion Special Characters follow all of the Independent Character rules in the Warhammer 40,000 Rulebook and have the Move through Cover and Skilled Rider abilities. They may lead a command squad from their relevant codex.

Only one Special Character per army.

Legio-I: The Dark Angels Legion Rules

With a sinister demeanor and a nod towards secrecy, the Dark Angels serve proudly at the forefront of the Great Crusade.

Traits:

- None

Special Rules:

- use Codex: Dark Angels instead of Codex: Space Marines

Legio-I: The Dark Angels Special Characters

ASTELAN

- Siren's Scream
- Rites of Battle
- Vanity

Vanity: In missions with a set Game Length, Eidolon's opponent may choose to end the game one turn early. The opponent must decide at the beginning of that turn.

Siren's Scream: On a turn in which he charges, Eidolon may use his thunder hammer at Initiative 4.

Legio-IV: The Iron Warriors Legion Rules

With back-breaking determination, the Iron Warriors are the Emperor's siege-masters, laying waste to every mighty citadel that lay in their path.

Traits:

- Suffer Not the Work of Heretics
- Honor Your Wargear
- Eye to Eye

Special Rules:

- Hardened Legion
- Landspeeders are unavailable
- Jetbikes are unavailable

With their penchant for slow methodical siege work, the Iron Warriors give little thought to exotic maneuver elements used by many other Legions.

Legio-IV: The Iron Warriors Special Characters

FORRIX

Captain of the Iron Warriors 1st Grand Company, Forrix is an imposing Siege-master. His signature tactic is an overwhelming curtain of fire under which his men launch their assaults.

- Pistoleer

Number/Squad:

Pistoleer: Vineum can shoot with two weapons in the Shooting phase, once with each master-crafted bolt pistol. If he remains stationary, he may shoot each pistol twice, giving him four shots in total. Such is his skill with pistols that he continues to fight with them in close combat where he counts as being armed with a power weapon and an extra close combat weapon.

Legio-X: The Iron Hands Legion Rules

Taciturn, focused adherents to the primacy of The Machine, the Iron Hands wage war with cold methodical efficiency, much to the horror of their foes.

Traits:

- Heed the Wisdom of the Ancients
- Scions of Mars
- Eye to Eye

Special Rules:

- Venerable dreadnoughts are available

With a philosophy finely attuned to the Mechanicum of Mars, many secrets of technology have been opened to the Iron Hands.

Legio-X: The Iron Hands Special Characters

GABRIEL SANTAR

Merciless First Captain of the Iron Hands, Santar and his hand-picked command squad are more machine than man, making them almost un-killable on the battlefield.

- Rites of Battle
- Efficient Tactician

Number/Squad:

Perdition Pistol: This pistol may be fired as a meltagun, but counts as a normal pistol in close combat.

Efficient Tactician: As long as Balhaan is alive, friendly Iron Hands squads automatically pass Target Priority tests.

Legio-XII: The World Eaters Legion Rules

Aggressive, bloodthirsty warriors, the World Eaters tear their foes apart in hand-to-hand combat. They fight on the very edge of uncontrollable rage due to illicit psycho-surgical procedures performed when initiated into the Legion.

Traits:

- None

Special Rules:

- use Codex: Blood Angels instead of Codex: Space Marines
- Death from Above
- No Baal predators
- only 0-1 Devastator squads available

With dangerously unbalanced mental focus, the World Eaters put little thought into combat tactics that did not emphasize close order actions.

Note: Death Company units that start their Movement Phase with a model within 6" of a World Eaters special character may ignore the Black Rage.

Legio-XII: The World Eaters Special Characters

KHÂRN

Berzerker champion of the World Eaters, Captain Khârn does not "lead" his men in battle so much he plunges headlong into his foes in an orgy of bloodletting and charnel house slaughter.

	Pts	WS	BS	S	T	W	I	A	Ld	Sv

Special Rules:

- Fearless
- Independent Character
- Furious Charge
- Berzerker

Number/Squad:

Gorechild: Khârn's close combat attacks always hit on a 2+. Gorechild is treated as a power weapon and, against vehicles, adds an extra D6 to Khârn's armor penetration rolls.

Berzerker: Khârn's wild rage provides him with a 5+ Invulnerable save, but forces his allies to give him a wide berth. His Leadership may not be used by any squad he joins.

"The Space Marines fear no evil, for we are fear incarnate."

-Conrad Curze, Primarch of the Night Lords

EHREN GAK

Legio-XX: The Alpha Legion

Cunning and secretive tacticians, the Alpha Legion strike from unexpected directions to destroy their foes in a synchronized symphony of devastation.

Traits:

- See But Don't Be Seen
- Death before Dishonor
- Faithful unto Death

Special Rules:

- Strike from Shadows
- Veteran Sergeants gain the Rites of Battle ability
- No HQ unit required

More independent-minded than any other Legion, the Alpha Legion trains each squad to take the initiative and fight through changing circumstance unassisted. Their seemingly random, unfocused strikes-forces mask a byzantine cunning that has caught many a foe wrong-footed.

AGE OF HERESY APOCALYPSE FORMATIONS

The Astartes Legions are vast military organizations. Some individual legions number 100,000 warriors. Each is shaped by their Primarchs, and takes to the battlefield in a dizzying array of formations.

APOCALYPSE FORMATION RULES

- General Info: Codex Apocalypse presents a set of comprehensive rules for fighting large battles of over 3000 pts per side. This ruleset is perfectly suited to games set in the Age of Heresy. With huge Legion armies facing off on dozens of worlds supported by the divided Adeptus Mechanicus, large games a perfect setting for some of the Era's famous battles. Events such as the Ullanor Campaign, The Istvaan Landings, and the Siege of Terra will make for amazing Apocalypse games.

- Formation Rules: The existing formations found in the Apocalypse book all stand. Remember that the standard Age of Heresy Equipment limitations are still in place, so certain formations may no longer work, or lose some options.

- Legion Formations: The 13 formations listed in this section are new and may only be taken by the legions listed on the Formation sheet. The standard Battle Company found in the Apocalypse book is prohibited and replaced by the Formations listed here.

- Non Legion Formations: From the Tank Companies of the Imperial Guard to the Flyers of the Eldar, the existing formations found in Apocalypse stand. As long as they conform with the Age of Heresy equipment restrictions, they are allowed.

LEGION BATTLE COMPANY

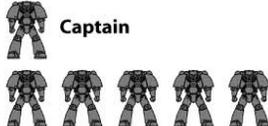

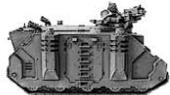

POINTS: 200 + MODELS

The Battle Company is the lynchpin formation used by several Astartes Legions. 100 warriors composed of a mixture of Tactical, Devastator, and Assault squads under the command of a Captain, the Battle Company is the standard force deployed to achieve specific objectives. It forms the core about which specialized units such as terminators, jump troops, and vehicles can be added.

Deployed from strike cruisers, the Battle Companies can face foes that are difficult for the standard Imperial Army. With lightning speed, a Battle Company can purge a city of alien threats, lay siege to a rebel world, or strike hard to cut the heart out of an enemy army. Armed with the finest equipment and fleet support assets the Imperium can provide, there is little an Astartes Battle Company cannot achieve.

IRON WARRIORS SIEGE COMPANY

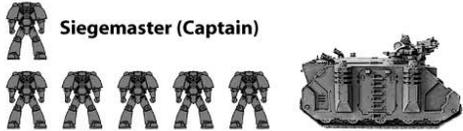

POINTS: 250 + MODELS

The Iron Warriors Siege Company is the doom of enemy citadels. 100 warriors composed of a mixture of Tactical, Devastator, and Assault squads under the command of a Siegemaster, the Siege Company is the standard force deployed to achieve specific objectives. It forms the core about which specialized units such as terminators, jump troops, and vehicles can be added.

Deployed for lengthy campaigns, the Siege Companies can face enemy fortresses that are impervious to the Imperial Army. With integral Vindicator support and combat engineer cross training, a Siege Company can pulverize alien cities, lay siege to a rebel world, or fight relentlessly to crush the heart of an enemy army. Armed with the heaviest equipment and fleet support assets the Imperium can provide, there are few defences a Siege Company cannot breach.

IMPERIAL FIST SHIELD WALL

The Imperial Fist Legion are the best defensive troops in the galaxy. With specialized combat engineer cross training, the Legion can throw up fortifications and hold them against all comers.

A specialized formation used by the legion during large engagements is the Shield Wall. This mixed squadron usually held in reserve, is designed to surge forward at key moments, blunting enemy breakthroughs. Their mandate is to stop an enemy advance dead in its tracks, and buy time for reserves to be brought up to fortify the line.

A senior Captain, designated the Master of the Keep will gather around him, a command squad and 2 other Terminator squads. These three elite units are carried into battle in Land Raider Transports, supported by a pair of Vindicators.

At key moments during a battle when the enemy has breached the Legion defensive positions, the Squadron will swing into action, using their specialized training regimens. They smash into the enemy at pointblank range with a devastating fusillade of fire; covering the assault of the Terminators into the breach.

FORMATION:

- 1 Space Marine Captain (in terminator armor)
- 1 Terminator Command Squad
- 2 five-man Terminator Squads
- 3 Land Raiders Transports (one must be designated as a command vehicle)
- 2 Vindicators

Note: All units must conform to the Age of Heresy Legion and equipment restrictions.

LEGION FORMATION USERS:

SPECIAL RULES:

Strike Force: All units in the Legion Raiding Squadron must be deployed within 6" of the Command Tank, or, if coming on from reserve, they must enter the table within 6" of the point entered by the Command Tank.

Wall of Steel: On any turn all remaining squadron vehicles fire their smoke launchers, they may also fire their weapons at BS:2. They may do this while moving up to full speed, and disembark squadron occupants as normal.

WORLD EATERS GLADIATOR COMPANY

POINTS: 250 + MODELS

The Gladiator Company is the standard formation used by the World Eaters Legion. 100 brutal warriors composed of a mixture of Tactical, Devastator, Assault, and frenzied Berzerker squads under the command of a Captain, the Gladiator Company is the standard force deployed to achieve specific objectives. It forms the core about which specialized units such as terminators and vehicles can be added.

Deployed from strike cruisers, the Gladiator Companies can rip apart foes too daunting for the standard Imperial Army. With lightning speed, a Gladiator Company can hack down a xenos threat, purge a rebel world, or rip out the beating heart of an enemy army. Frenzied barely controlled troops with a penchant for bloody hand to hand combat a World Eaters Gladiator Company is more a vicious force of nature than a military machine.

WORD BEARERS CRUSADE OF FAITH

POINTS: 100 + MODELS

The Word Bearers Legion are firm adherents to the Imperial Creed. During campaigns on human worlds, Word Bearer chaplains will often whip up the local populace into a religious fervor, and launch great Crusades of Faith against their chosen foes. With smiles on their faces, mob weapons in their hands and faith in their hearts, thousands will heed the call of their Word Bearer saviors and march headlong into the heretical enemy. While casualties are often catastrophically high, the Crusades of Faith are effective. Enemies often literally run out of ammunition before being overrun and torn apart by the zealot mobs. While some would chastise the Word Bearers' cavalier use of Imperial citizens, they proudly point to the miracle of faith, and the power it can bring to bear on the enemies of the Imperium.

ALPHA LEGION HYDRA COMPANY

POINTS: 200 + MODELS

The Hydra Company is the lynchpin formation used by the Astartes Alpha Legion. 100 warriors composed of a balanced mixture of Terminator, Tactical, Devastator, and Assault squads under the command of a Captain, the Hydra Company is the standard force deployed to achieve specific objectives. It forms the core about which specialized units such as jump troops, and vehicles can be added.

Deployed from strike cruisers, the Hydra Companies can face foes that are impervious to the standard Imperial Army. With tactical genius, a Hydra Company can capture a city under xenos control, subvert a rebel world, or strike quickly to cut the heart out of an enemy army. With a reputation for complex multi-faceted operations, the Hydra Companies overwhelm their foes with byzantine attacks on all fronts. Many a foe has underestimated the Alpha Legion to their doom.

LEGION RAIDING SQUADRON

POINTS: 150 + MODELS

Some Legions heavily emphasize maneuver warfare, cutting their foes apart in a series of lightning raids, that slice deep into their rear lines causing untold havoc. The Raiding Squadron is a specialized formation used by these cunning Legions to bring the enemy to their knees. Bringing together some of the Legions's fastest maneuver assets, a Captain well skilled in the art of raiding will take to field, hammering his foe from unexpected quarter, before darting to safety.

Dark Angel Ravenwing, White Scars Cataphracts, Night Lords Terror Raids. All are famous names for these dreaded warriors. With lightning speed, a Raiding Squadron can encircle and bleed dry an isolated enemy army, destroy supply lines, and strike fast and hard at distant Command and Control assets. When facing these Legions, the enemy know no rest or comfort as no place is truly safe.

Strategic Redeployment: Highly mobile and independent, a Legion Raiding Squadron moves quickly across the battlefield. The models in the formation get a single Strategic Redeployment strategic asset.

LEGION FELLBLADE SUPER-HEAVY TANK

POINTS: 600

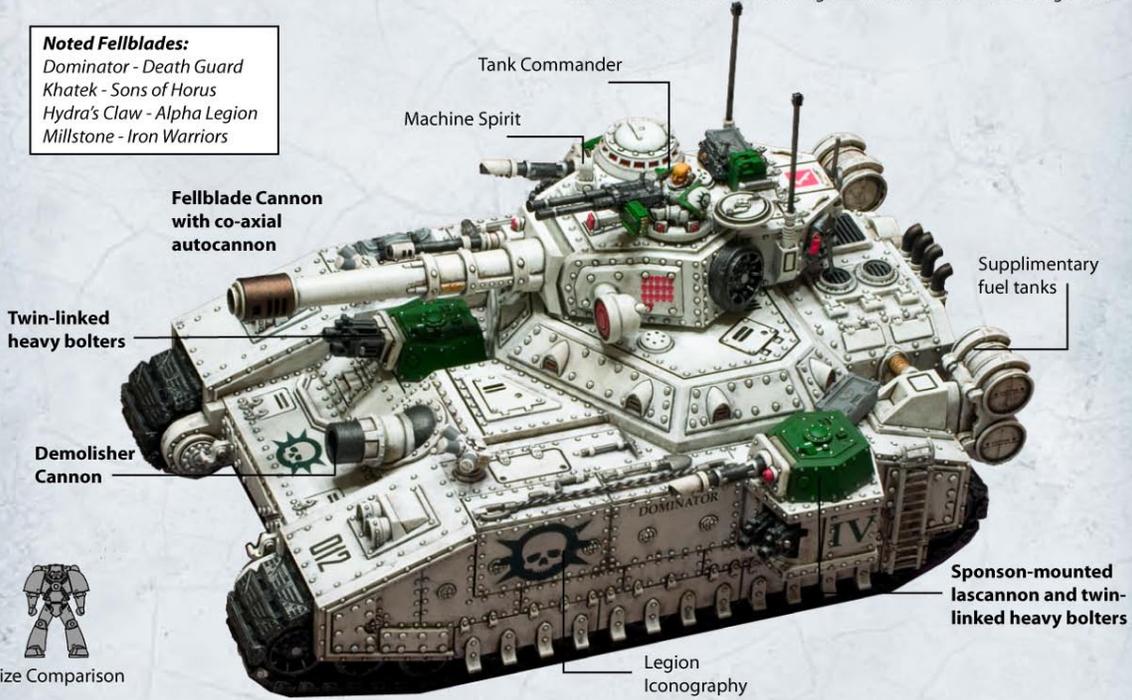

The Fellblade super-heavy tank is one of the largest vehicles used by the Astartes Legions. Manufactured by the Mechanicum, and provided to the Legions, Fellblades are among the most dreaded sights to the enemies of the Imperium. These are formidable machines, armed with a variety of weapons ranging from the large caliber Fellblade cannon to the many small defensive heavy bolters festooning its hull.

Fellblades are fitted with the most advanced compact Machine Spirits available and are above all, crewed by the mighty Astartes themselves. This combination makes the Fellblade an even greater threat than the ubiquitous Baneblade used by the Imperial army.

Each Legion uses the Fellblade based upon their own tactical doctrines. Thus, while dozens are in the inventory of the Iron Warriors, the master-raiders of the White Scars and Night Lords eschew their use altogether.

Noted Fellblades:

- Dominator - Death Guard
- Khatek - Sons of Horus
- Hydra's Claw - Alpha Legion
- Millstone - Iron Warriors

SUGGESTED CAMPAIGN CHRONOLOGY

Herein lay an accounting of the most grievous schism to ever befall the Imperium of Man. The Horus Heresy tore the galaxy apart as brother took up arms against brother, and Holy Terra herself became a battlefield of untold horror.

GENERAL CAMPAIGN RULES

- 9-Week Campaign: This set of suggested missions is designed for a 2 month league that will take a group of players from the close of the Great Crusade, on through the days of the Heresy and culminate with the Siege of Terra.
- Narrative Battles: The goal of this campaign setting is to provide a set of Heresy- Era gamers the opportunity to recreate the heady days of the Great Crusade, building up kinships with their fellow Legion players, before being pulled painfully apart by the Heresy and forced to take arms against their former brothers. It will also hit upon several of the "Hallmark" events of the period and give players a chance to take part in these actions while still keeping the overall historical narrative moving forward.

SCORING THE CAMPAIGN

- Glorify and Battle Honors are the Goals: With a heavy emphasis on narrative and historical missions, this league is designed not as a tightly balanced tournament-style setting. Instead, players are invited to recreate a series of small actions set within a much larger context. They will be keeping "score" from week to week using a set of post mission results to build up and decorate their own personal "Legion Company Banner" that tells of their glorious victories and their humbling losses. As the campaign wears on, and concludes, each player will have earned through his battlefield performance a unique visual memento to recall his Legion's history and to compare to his fellow legionaries in the future.

- Filling out the Banner: At the start of the Campaign, fill out our Army Name and Legio Number (if you are a Legion player) on the banner. At the end of each battle, score it normally using the 40k rules to determine Margin of Victory results (BGB p.86). Circle the icon representing YOUR performance. If your weekly game is a memorable one for your army, circle the weekly number as a reminder of this critical battle. At the end of the Campaign, you will have a narrative reminder of your games, tracking your army's performance across the nine week period.

AGE OF HERESY CAMPAIGN RULES

The campaign is designed as a suggested series of missions for up to two dozen players. Here are a set of additional rules to custom tailor it to your local group.

Not Enough (or Too Many) Legions!

The Age of Heresy involved many Astartes Legions and it is very unlikely that you will have a single player representing every Legion.

If your campaign is missing Legions, then simply follow through the campaign scenarios using the Legions that you have available. For example, both the Luna Wolves and Emperor's Children are key players but if no one in your gaming group has them, it doesn't have to stop the campaign.

Also don't shy away from re-writing history if it suits the players in your campaign. No Emperor's Children playing, but you want to try out the Laeran campaign mission? Feel free! Also don't worry about skipping entire weeks of the campaign – many players are going to want to jump to the end. Again, it's your campaign and this is a tool to help you make it fun!

Having too many of a particular Legion may not seem like a problem, but if two players want to play the same mission it can be a problem.

There are two ways to handle this: You can either allow the players to form a team that carries through the entire campaign. This can be a lot of fun, especially if both players have small armies. Alternatively, you can allow both players to play key missions with their own army. Each of them want to experience the Battle at Atoll19? That's fine!

Not Enough Xenos!

If you don't have enough Xenos armies, then simply skip the early weeks of the campaign. They are primarily there to build excitement and allow players time to complete their modeling projects.

Multi-player Games

Many of the campaigns of the Great Crusade and the most furious battles of the Heresy involved Legions fighting side-by-side with their battle brothers.

Several of the missions included in the campaign involve multiple players per side. To minimize confusion in these large and complicated games, we've included some guidelines.

1. Team Captain: Each team must nominate a Team Captain who is responsible for rolling any dice required for Mission Set-Up. The Team Captain is responsible for keeping the game moving and minimizing any time delays caused by his team.
2. Deployment: Teams must take turns deploying their units. For example, one team member may not deploy two units in a row unless all of his other team members have completed their deployment. This may force a side to deploy out of sequence (e.g., one team member may be forced to deploy an Elite choice while there are Troops choices on his team that have not deployed). This is okay.
3. Reserves: Team members must take turns deploying their Reserves on the table.
4. Unless otherwise specified, powers that affect friendly units will work on teammates that meet the power's requirements (e.g., Hadwyn's Hold the Line ability would affect a teammate's Dark Angels Tactical squad).
5. Rites of Battle only affects the owning player's army.
6. A Legion with the Rule through Fear ability must select a single opponent for this ability.
7. A Legion with Preliminary Bombardment (or a similar ability) must select a single opposing army as the target.
8. A Legion which must leave a game early for any reason (for example Eidolon) will remove all its models from the table at the end of the designated turn. VPs are only scored against the Legion leaving for units which were destroyed or falling back at the time of departure.

Week 1: The Great Crusade Wears On

The Legions are in ascendance. The galaxy is mostly pacified, and the Age of the Imperium is begun. One of the final great Legion campaigns is led by Horus at Ullanor, against the ork warlord Urllak Urruk. Meanwhile across the galaxy, the Emperor's Children, start an ill-omened campaign to purge the xenos of Laer.

ULLANOR CAMPAIGN

At Ullanor, the mightiest known Ork warlord was vanquished, cementing the rise of Horus from Primarch to Warmaster.

THE BATTLE FOR ATOLL 19

The Battle on Atoll 19 would later be described as a minor, opening skirmish in the Cleansing of Laeran; a footnote to the fighting that was yet to come, but to the warriors in the spear tip of Solomon Demeter's Second Company of Emperor's Children, it felt considerably more intense than a skirmish.

SET-UP

1 Both players roll a D6, the winner chooses his deployment zone. Units must be deployed within 12" of the table edge. The player that scored the higher result now deploys one unit in his deployment zone. The players take turns deploying a unit at a time until both their entire forces are on the table.

2 Roll a D6. Highest score may choose whether to go first or second.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Victory Points, Infiltrate.

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Legions Present: Emperor's Children.

Xenos Opponent: The Laer (see below).

Recommended Point Levels: 1500 per side.

Recommended Special Rules:

Vox-Net Compromised: Legions do not benefit from Rites of Battle when facing the Laer.

Worthy Opponents: The Laer can be represented with Codex: Tau and the addition of Tyranid Ravenors and Warriors to represent thier high technology weaponry and genetically enhanced warriors.

Week II: The Great Crusade Comes to a Close

The Warmaster is beginning to shoulder the burden of his new rank. Across the galaxy, all major threats to the Imperium are defeated. Many Legions continue on to stamp out the final embers of various and sundry minor xenos fiefdoms, while others turn back towards their home worlds. On the isolated world of Murder, the Blood Angels and Emperor's Children step into disaster.

FINAL LIBERATIONS

With all major Xenos threats vanquished, the Legions each took on a series of singular campaigns in the final days of the Great Crusade, as much to earn the respect of their brother Legions as to finally stamp out the last embers of the Xenos across the Imperium.

THIS WORLD IS MURDER

Officially named One-forty-twenty, this planet of nightmares was informally renamed Murder by a Blood Angel officer who was stranded on its surface. A botched series of initial landings and an ill-advised rescue attempt left isolated elements of Blood Angels and Emperor's Children fighting for their lives against the constant pressure of Megarachnid attack.

SET-UP

1 Both players roll a D6, the winner chooses either of the long table edges as his deployment zone. He may deploy his forces up to 12" onto the board.

The opposing player gets the opposite table edge. He may deploy his forces up to 12" onto the board.

2 Both players roll a D6. Starting with the player that rolled lowest, the players take it in turns deploying a unit at a time until both armies are fully deployed. Units are deployed in the following order: Heavy support, Troops Elites, HQ, Fast Attack.

3 Roll a D6. Highest score may choose whether to go first or second.

LINE OF RETREAT: Units which are forced to fall back will do so towards the nearest board edge of their deployment zone. Megarachnid units forced to fall back and reduced to less than 50% strength can be removed from the table and reused. They do not have to fall back off the table first. (See the Sustained Attack rules)

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

MISSION OBJECTIVE

The Legion forces are fighting for their lives. If at the end of the game, the Legion player has no forces left, the Megarachnid player wins. If any Legion forces remain, the Legion Player wins.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Legions Present: Emperor's Children, Blood Angels.

Xenos Opponent: The Megarachnid (see below).

Recommended Point Levels: 1000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules:

"This World is Murder": The entire board is a Jungle map (see Codex: Catachans)

Week III: Dire Portents

The Warmaster is gathering around him his most trusted brother Primarchs and legions. All around the galaxy, there is disquieting news, and ill-omens. Oaths are taken and broken, and slowly, the Legions begin to split apart into two troubled factions.

LANDINGS OF ISTVAAN EXTREMIS

Gathering his most trusted legions together, the Warmaster sets in motion a series of events in the Istvaan system that will tear the Galaxy apart. It begins with the landings on Istvaan Extremis against a wayward Imperial Governor.

SHATTERING THE SECTS

With their initial landing sites secure, Leman Russ unleashed his Legion against the Red Sorcerer Sects of Prosero. The beautiful Silver Towers were cast down, and city after city was razed as the Thousand Sons were slowly being ground to dust. With their foe on the run, the Space Wolves moved in for the kill. Magnus the Red prepared to make a daemonic pact for his Legion's soul to ensure their survival.

SET-UP

- 1 The Thousand Sons are the Attacker.
- 2 The Space Wolves choose a long table edge. The Thousand Sons get the opposite edge.
- 3 The Space Wolves set up their entire army along their table edge, up to 6" in. All Fast Attack and Elites units are held in reserve.
- 4 The Thousand Sons declare an entry point along their table edge, and an exit point on the Space Wolves table edge.
- 5 The Thousand Sons go first, moving as much of their army as they choose onto the board from any point on the table edge within 6" of his entry point. They may leave any units they wish in reserve.

RESERVES: When available, the Thousand Sons reserves move on from any point on the board edge within 6" of their entry point. Space Wolves reserves move on from any point along their own board edge.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Cityfighting Strategems, Random Game Length, Reserves

MISSION OBJECTIVE

The Thousand Sons must evacuate. They must get as many units off the board as possible, via the exit point. If they get half or more of the units in their army off the table via any point on the table edge within 6" of their exit point, they win. A unit with any survivors or a damaged vehicle count towards this. If the Thousand Sons fail to do this, the Space Wolves win.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Loyal Legion Present: Space Wolves.

Renegade Legion Present: Thousand Sons.

Recommended Point Levels: 2,000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules: Cities of Death

No Quarter: All Space Marines and Space Marine Dreadnoughts gain the Preferred Enemy rule against their opposing Space Marine Legion.

Silver Tower: Thousand Sons automatically pass psychic tests. Blasted power grid results in possible nightfighting rules; rolled for each turn on a d6 roll of a 4+

HISTORICAL NOTE

Optional heroes present: Bjorn, Phosis T'Kar (presumed dead), Adeptus Custodes Honor Guard

DANGEROUS LIASONS

As Horus prepared his trap at Istvaan V, Fulgrim parlayed with Ferrus Mannus and attempted to convert him to the Warmaster's side. The talks went badly, and both Primarchs and their staffs had to fight their way out of the area.

Week IV: Heresy is Declared on Istvaan III

The Warmaster plays his hand, and the Heresy is declared. His declaration of war is the viral bombing of his own legion's Loyalists and the death of Istvaan III. Traitor Legions and chaos uprising erupt around the galaxy. On Mars, the Mechanicus tears itself in two, as the Dark Mechanicus swear fealty to Horus.

BROTHER VS BROTHER

On Istvaan III, the Heresy began in earnest. Four Traitor Legions tore themselves apart and betrayed their remaining loyalist brethren; bombing them from orbit with the deadly Life-Eater virus. The survivors fought a valiant campaign on the now ashen, blighted, virus tainted world of death to reclaim their honor and deal a stinging blow on their traitorous kin. It was on Istvaan III, that loyalists Saul Tarvitz, and Garviel Loken met their fates.

SET-UP

- 1 Divide the board into quarters. Both players roll a D6, highest score picks which quarter to deploy in. The other player's deployment zone is the opposite quarter.
- 2 Starting with the player that scored lowest, the players take it in turns deploying a unit at a time until both armies are fully deployed. Units are deployed in the following order: Heavy Support, Troops, Elites, HQ, Fast Attack.

Week V: The Imperial Landings on Istvaan V

The Warmaster's grand trap is set on Istvaan V. While open warfare tears the Imperium apart on a thousand worlds, three Loyalist Legions are virtually wiped out in one of the darkest days of the Imperium. Mars falls to the Dark Mechanicus, and for the first time, the Defenders of Terra know the bite of fear.

NOTE: Traitor Legion Equipment Changes now in effect.

ISTVAAN V – THE DROPSITE LANDINGS

Responding to the Warmaster's Treachery, the Iron Hands performed an initial landing supported by six other legions, and cut a path through the Traitor's lines, coming face to face with the Heresy of their brothers the Emperor's Children. On this spot, Fulgrim laid low his brother Ferrus Mannus, only after exposing the full horror of what was to come of the duped loyalist legions

THE DROPZONE MASSACRE

With the death of Ferrus Mannus, Horus sprang his deadly trap. Four of the Imperial Legions of the second landing wave revealed their true colors and cut down their brothers from the now surrounded first landing wave. It was a dark hour for the Salamanders and Raven Guard who fought a hopeless battle to save their precious gene-seed and bring word of this treachery to Terra.

SET-UP

- 1 Both players roll a D6, the winner chooses to deploy first or second.
- 2 There are no deployment zones. All units deploy before the start of the game using the Deep Strike special rule. Each player takes turns placing a single unit of their choice until all of their models are on the tabletop.
- 3 If an entire unit is destroyed by scattering off the table, landing within 1" of an enemy model or entering impassible terrain, that unit is placed into Reserves.
- 4 Roll a D6. Highest score may choose whether to go first or second.

LINE OF RETREAT: Renegade Legions fall back normally toward the closest board edge. Loyal Legions fall back toward the board center. Once they reach the board center, they regroup automatically (ignoring any restriction).

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

FLIGHT OF THE EISENSTEIN

Fleeing the treacherous affairs of the Istvaan system, Death Guard Captain Garro commandeered the frigate Eisenstein and made way for Terra. His journey to bring word of the Warmaster's treachery to the Emperor's ear is legend. First however, he had to deal with a traitorous rival onboard, and the Ruinous Powers had plans of their own...

SET-UP

- 1 Captain Grulgor's compulsory Force Org. units are placed anywhere on the board more than 12" from any table edge. All other units start in reserve.
- 2 Captain Garro's HQ, and Elite units start within 6" of any single board edge. All other units start in reserve.
- 3 Captain Garro's forces go first.

RESERVES: When available, Garro's reserves move on from any point on their board edge. When available, each of Grulgor's reserve units arrive at any point on a randomly selected board edge.

GAME LENGTH: The game lasts for 6 turns.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Cityfighting Strategems, Random Game Length, Reserves

MISSION OBJECTIVE

Both sides are trying to take control of the ship. The first captain to eliminate the other wins at the end of the turn. If both captains fall in the same turn, use Victory Points to resolve the tie-breaker.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Loyal Legion Present: Death Guard (Garro commanding).

Renegade Legion Present: Death Guard (Grulgor commanding); Plague Marines, Deamon Packs (CSM) are allowed.

Recommended Point Levels: 1000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules: Cities of Death

Space-borne Combat: All successful armor saves are re-rolled. All Infantry units gain the Fleet USR. Only Infantry, Monstrous Creatures, and Vehicle Walkers allowed.

Close Quarters: This small mission should be played on a urban themed, congested 4x4 foot table.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Heroes present: Nathaniel Garro, Ignatius Grulgor (presumed dead)
This mission is out of order, to facilitate the overall campaign schedule

Week VII: The Siege of Terra

The Warmaster has arrived at Terra. His fleet batted aside the orbital defenses, destroyed the Loyalist fleets, and Mars has been captured by the Dark Mechanicus. As the skies over the Imperial palace turned black, tens of thousands of landers began their decent. The siege of Terra had begun.

NOTE: Traitor Legion Equipment Changes now in effect.

THE TERRAN LANDINGS

The invasion of Terra has begun. From countless ships and drop-pods, the Traitor Legions made planetfall on Holy Terra. They consolidated their landing zones and threw back all who stood before them. The traitor's now twisted forms marked them for all to see. Here at the start of the Terran Siege, the Ruinous Powers were at their zenith.

SET-UP

- 1 Mark the center of the table, and determine the deployment zone vector based off of it using the standard Apocalypse setup rules.
- 2 The Loyalists set up all their forces in their deployment zone. Any forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve
- 3 The Traitors set up all their forces except Heavy Support and super-heavies in their deployment zone. Heavy Support, super-heavies and any other forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve.
- 4 Roll a D6. On a 2+, the Traitors go first.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Deep Strike, Infiltrate
Loyalist Strategic Asset pool: Hold at all Costs, Bunkers, Obstacles
Traitor Strategic Asset Pool: Precision Strike (x2)
Blind Barrage

MISSION OBJECTIVE

The Loyalist forces are trying to hold their outer defense lines in the face of the unending mass of Traitor forces. Use the standard Apocalypse objective rules to determine victory, taking the Hold the Line rule into account.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Loyal Forces Present: Blood Angels, Imperial Fists, Imperial Guard, Adeptus Titanicus

Renegade Forces Present: Emperor's Children, World Eaters, Thousand Sons, Death Guard, Sons of Horus, Adeptus Titanicus

Recommended Point Levels: 10,000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules: Apocalypse Battle

Fire from the Sky: Traitor forces receive one Orbital Bombardment strategic asset per turn.

Hold the Line: All 6 Apocalypse objectives are equally spaced across no-man's land.

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Optional heroes present: Ralderon, Vineum, Sigismund, Navarra Kham, Argus Brond, Typhon, Eidolon, Lucius, Ahriman, Ezekyle Abaddon, Horus Aximand

THE SALLY OF THE KHAN

The finest hour of the White Scars. Surrounded and cut off, the Khan ordered a lightning raid to capture the Warmaster's now secure Lion's Gate spaceport and cut the supply lines of the traitors in half overnight.

- LatD/Imperial Guard
- Word Bearers

Missions:

- Strongpoint Attack (WSs attacking)

Points and Players:

- 2000 per side
- 1 on 2

LION AND THE NIGHT – PART 2

In a series of daring boarding actions the Dark Angels overtook key elements of the Night Lords fleet, and began to maneuver their vessels to cut off their would-be attackers. The Night Lords, broke from combat and fled, leaving the Sons of the Lion to make best speed to Terra

Legions Present:

- Dark Angels

Enemy Legions Present:

- Night Lords

Missions:

- Total Devastation (Cities of Death) (DAs attacking)

Points and Players:

- 2000 per side
- 2 on 1

Special Rules:

Space borne Combat: All successful armour saves are rerolled. All Infantry units gain the Fleet USR. Only Infantry, Monstrous Creatures, and Vehicle Walkers allowed.

BATTLE OF AVELLORN

As the invasion began several loyalist legions continued their march to Terra. On Avellorn, an Ultramarines task force fell on a minor Iron Warriors garrison world in a effort to secure supplies.

Legions Present:

- Ultramarines

Enemy Legions Present:

- Iron Warriors

Missions:

- Bunker Assault (UMs attacking)

Points and Players:

- 2000 per side
- 1 on 1

BATTLE OF YARANT

As the invasion began, the Alpha legion continued seeking out difficult Imperial outposts to destroy purely as a show of force and skill. On Yarant, they inflicted a stinging defeat to a Space Wolves company.

Legions Present:

- Space Wolves

Enemy Legions Present:

- Alpha Legion

Missions:

- Cleanse

Points and Players:

- 2500 per side
- 1 on 1

OPEN WARFARE

With the Terran invasion underway, several legions were embroiled in a series of minor actions to deal with local matters, while the Xenos took the opportunity to begin raiding the Imperium for their own benefit.

Legions Present:

- Iron Hands
- Salamanders
- Raven Guard

Enemies Present:

- Any Xenos (Eldar will only fight Traitor Legions)

Missions:

- Special (Legions attacking)

Points and Players:

- 2000 per side
- 1 on 1

Week VIII: Against the Walls

With their landing sites secure, the Traitors surround the Imperial Palace proper and bring up their siege works. Titans belch nuclear fire on both sides, as the Traitors make a push against the palace walls. The loyalists will do anything to stop them, knowing that once breached, there will be no stopping the endless hordes of chaos.

NOTE: Traitor Legion Equipment Changes now in effect.

BREACHING THE PALACE WALLS

With the Imperial Palace surrounded, The Traitors began their assault of the Palace proper. Under the supervision of Iron Warriors Siegemasters, and with the support of several traitor Titan Legions, the breaching attempts moved forward. Under ancient Iron Warriors tradition, once the siege-lines were drawn, quarter was neither asked for nor given.

SET-UP

- 1 Mark the center of the table, and determine the deployment zone vector based off of it using the standard Apocalypse setup rules.
- 2 The Traitors set up all their forces in their deployment zone. Any forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve
- 3 The Loyalists set up all their forces in their deployment zone. Any forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve.
- 4 Roll a D6. On a 2+, the Traitors go first.

MISSION OBJECTIVE

The Loyalist forces are trying to hold the Palace walls in the face of the siege works of the Traitor Legions. Use the standard Apocalypse objective rules to determine victory, taking the Against the Walls rule into account.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Loyal Forces Present: Blood Angels, Imperial Fists, White Scars, Imperial Guard, Adeptus Titanicus

Renegade Forces Present: Emperor's Children, World Eaters, Thousand Sons, Death Guard, Word Bearers Iron Warriors, Sons of Horus, Adeptus Titanicus

Recommended Point Levels: 20,000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules: Apocalypse Battle

Palace Walls: Stretched across the front edge of the Loyalist Deployment Zone is a large solid wall. Each 12" section is a 200pt, 1 Structure Point, AV14 vehicle with a 36" range battlecannon. The walls are impassible terrain and block LoS for the Traitors. Loyalists on and within 6" behind the walls can trace LoS through them.

Against the Walls: All 6 Apocalypse objectives are equally spaced along the wall.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Deep Strike, Infiltrate
Loyalist Strategic Asset pool: Hold at all Costs, Minefields (x2), Obstacles (x2)
Traitor Strategic Asset Pool: Scheduled Bombardment (x2) Blind Barrage (x2), Tunnels

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Optional heroes present: Ralderon, Vineum, Sigismund, Navarra, Jubal Khan, Rangtai Kharn, Argus Brond, Typhon, Ahriman, Ezekyle Abaddon, Horus Aximand, Erebus, Kor Phaeron, Forrix, Dradenor

Designer's Note: Only the Legions listed were present, but I can't think of a more fitting way to end a campaign than a crazy Apocalypse Mega-Battle with titans. If you wish, expand the game to include ALL the legions, and up the point values to suit.

"The difference between gods and daemons largely depends upon where one is standing at the time."

-Lorgar, Primarch of the Word Bearers

Week IX: The Inner Sanctum

The outer palace has fallen. Stripped of all their secondary troops, the remaining Loyalist Legionnaires, Custodes Guard, and Titan Princeps prepare to sell their lives in one last effort to buy time for the Emperor. Deep below the Imperial Palace, the Emperor unseats himself from the Golden Throne and goes to meet his fate.

NOTE: Traitor Legion Equipment Changes now in effect.

INNER SANCTUM BESIEGED

With a wellspring of bitterness that knows no end, the tattered remnants of both sides regrouped and plunged headlong at each other in a final push to decide the fate of the Inner Sanctum of the Imperial Palace. High above, the Emperor and Horus faced each other one final time to decide the fate of the galaxy

SET-UP

- 1 Mark the center of the table, and determine the deployment zone vector based off of it using the standard Apocalypse setup rules.
- 2 The Loyalists set up all their forces in their deployment zone. Any forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve
- 3 The Traitors set up all their forces in their deployment zone. Any forces not set up are held in Strategic Reserve.
- 4 Roll a D6. On a 3+, the Loyalists go first.

SCENARIO SPECIAL RULES

Deep Strike, Infiltrate

Loyalist Strategic Asset pool: Hold at all Costs, Vortex Gr. Minefields, Obstacles (x2), Supreme Headquarters

Traitor Strategic Asset Pool: Scheduled Bombardment (x2) Blind Barrage (x2), Camouflage

GAME LENGTH: The game last for 6 turns.

MISSION OBJECTIVE

The Loyalist forces are trying to hold the blasted remnants of the Inner Sanctum in a play for time. Use the standard Apocalypse objective rules to determine victory, taking the To the Bitter End rule into account.

HISTORICAL BATTLE

Loyal Forces Present: Blood Angels, Imperial Fists, White Scars, Imperial Guard, Adeptus Titanicus

Renegade Forces Present: Emperor's Children, World Eaters, Thousand Sons, Death Guard, Word Bearers Iron Warriors, Sons of Horus, Adeptus Titanicus

Recommended Point Levels: 20,000 per side.

Recommended Special Rules: Apocalypse Battle

Blasted Ruins: Concentrate all terrain on the table into many tightly packed "Urban Blocks" that are 12"-18" from each other. Fill "no-man's land" first, then expand into both side's Deployment Zones if terrain allows. "Urban Blocks" are impassible terrain for vehicles and give 4+ cover saves.

To the Bitter End: All 6 Apocalypse objectives must be placed in different Blasted Ruins.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Optional heroes present: Ralderon, Vineum, Sigismund, Navarra, Jubal Khan, Rangtai, Adeptus Custodes Honor Guard Kham, Argus Brond, Typhon, Ahriman, Ezekyle Abaddon, Horus Aximand, Erebus, Kor Phaeron, Forrix, Dradenor

Designer's Note: Only the Legions listed were present, but I can't think of a more fitting way to end a campaign than a crazy Apocalypse Mega-Battle with titans. If you wish, expand the game to include ALL the legions, and up the point values to suit.

"The day will not save them, and we own the night."

ENEMIES IN THE AGE OF HERESY

The Astartes Legions were not the only forces in existence during the Age of Heresy. Herein lay an accounting of the available forces of the galaxy and how to use them in your campaigns.

DIRECT CODICES

- Imperial Guard: All manner of human armies fought both alongside and against the Legions during the Great Crusade and through the Heresy Itself.
- Eldar: The enigmatic Eldar were present throughout this period forming a common foe during the Great Crusade. There are many Heresy accounts of the Eldar arriving to fight not on behalf of the Loyalists but against the Traitor Legions.
- Orks: Perhaps the most common alien threat that had to be beaten back during this period, the Orks were endemic across the galaxy.
- Lost and the Damned (Eye of Terror): Thousands of isolated human worlds fell to the Ruinous Powers during the Age of Strife, or turned their backs on the Emperor during the dark days of the Heresy.
- Dark Eldar: These barbaric marauders were present throughout this period forming a rare threat during the Great Crusade and on through the Heresy-era.
- Forgeworld Imperial Armour: As the Legions spread across the galaxy, they fought alongside the Titan Collegios of the Adeptus Mechanicus, and encountered the Titans of many Xenos races. During the Heresy, the Mechanicum tore itself asunder and the Collegios fought on both sides of the conflict.

"COUNTS AS" CODICES

- Tyrannids: While not a literal representation of the Hive Fleets, many monstrous races such as the Megarachnid were met during the Great Crusade.

- Tau Empire: While the Tau were still millennia away from their racial awakening, several alien races and confederacies such as the Laer, with a higher technological level than Mankind were met during this period.

- Necrons: Cut off and alone during the millennia of the Age of Strife, several advanced Human empires turned to the proscribed arts of artificial intelligence and thinking machines to stave off the horrors of a hostile universe. Many of these human enclaves were destroyed by their creations and had to be crushed by the Legions.

- Chaos Space Marines: Isolated during the millennia of the Age of Strife, some advanced Human empires thrived. These were not keen to kneel to the Master of Mankind, and presented warriors who were the equal to the Astartes in all but their loyalty to the Imperium.

- Other Codices: The Witch Hunter codex offers some great ideas for armies, particularly in the Adversaries section. The Daemonhunters Adversaries and Kroot Mercenary lists can also provide some interesting and very alien opponent for Great Crusade battles. We also recommend the Chaos Renegades list from Imperial Armour V: The Siege of Vracks.

- Other Ideas: Age of Heresy battles are a great opportunity to dust off some out of print and unofficial army lists, such as the Genestealer Cult list and Tim Huckleberry's Adeptus Mechanicus list (see the links section for the address). Just make sure to find (or make up) appropriate culture to crush with the Imperial might of the Space Marine Legions!

"Why? You ask me why? Have all these millennia taught you nothing? Weak fool, your timidity prevented you from binding the forces of Chaos. You shied away from the ultimate power. I have bound it to my will and will lead humanity into a new age. I, Horus, Master of Chaos"

-Horus to the Emperor

MODELING IN THE AGE OF HERESY

The Heresy Era offer a host of exciting modeling and painting opportunities to a Warhammer 40k player. From baroque armor, to original Traitor Legion color schemes and more you are guaranteed to end up with a beautiful, unique army.

INTRODUCTION

One of the most fun aspects of playing in the Age of Heresy is the opportunity to do a lot of "Historical Modeling". I would recommend first getting your hands on the Horus Heresy Art Books Volumes I-IV from Black Library. These essential visual guidebooks provide a dazzling array of artwork to inspire your Heresy Era Modeling.

HERESY ERA MARINE ARMOR

- Mark II (Crusade Armor): This early armor was used extensively during the early portions of the Great Crusade. By the Heresy era it would be mostly replaced with later versions, but still in use in limited numbers. You can get Mark II armor from Games Workshop:

Games Workshop Collectors Range:
Marine MK2 Crusade Armor 9947010132203

- Mark IV (Maximus Armor): This armor was used extensively during the later portions of the Great Crusade and will be readily available during the Heresy Era. You can get Mark IV armor from Games Workshop and ForgeWorld:

Games Workshop Collectors Range:
Marine MK4 Maximus Armor 9947010132205

ForgeWorld Red Scorpions Veterans:
Product Code IA-ISM-I-008 (11 helmets and torsos)

- Mark V (Heresy Armor): This armor was used extensively during the Heresy itself, being easy to manufacture and repair. You can get Mark V armor from Games Workshop:

Games Workshop Collectors Range:
Marine MK5 Heresy Armor 9947010132204

- Mark VI (Corvus Armor): This classic "beaky" armor was used during the Heresy itself in limited numbers, mainly by the Traitor legions who secured large stocks of it from the Dark Mechanicus. You can get Mark VI armor in the standard Space Marine plastic ranges.

- Mark VII (Eagle Armor): This armor was very rare, being

Games Workshop: www.games-workshop.com

ForgeWorld: www.forgeworld.co.uk

a late heresy introduction by the Mechanicus. It should be used very sparingly. You can get Mark VII armor in the standard Space Marine plastic ranges.

HERESY ERA MARINE VEHICLES

- Land Raiders (Mark 2B): This early variant of the Land Raider has a more brutal appearance than its later more familiar forms. You can get Mark 2B Land Raiders from Forgeworld:

Forgeworld: MK2B Pre-Heresy style Land Raider:
Product Code IA-ISM-T-YYY

- Dreadnoughts (Mark IV): This early variant of the Dreadnought is a beautiful work of art compared to the harder feel of later designs. You can get Mark IV Dreadnoughts from Forgeworld:

Forgeworld MK IV Dreadnought

HERESY ERA DECALS

- Decals: The Loyalist Legions still retain their original Legion insignia. You can use existing Games Workshop

decal sheets for these Legions. The Traitor legions however changed their iconography Post Heresy. You will need to obtain logo-sheets of their original Legion insignias. You can get downloadable logo sheets for the Traitor Legions from Bell of Lost Souls:

Aquilas: One of the easiest things a Heresy Era modeler can do to start is understand the use of the Aquila.

Single Headed Aquila: This is the personal symbol of the Emperor since the War of Unification. It could appear on his Custodes guard, and any marines who are old Terran veterans of the Unification Wars.

Double Headed Aquila: This new symbol represents the union of the Emperor and the Mechanicum of Mars. Any Legion may use the Aquila on equipment, but its use on personal marine armor and chestplates is limited to the Emperor's Children Legion.
